Over the last five years Germany has seen domestic production decrease while imports of LEDs are steadily increasing to around 1,766.9 tons accounting for a market share of EUR299,024.81 in 2009. Germany's semiconductor industry has become a major global partner and driver of development and research of LED technology. In this market brief we analyse the entry requirements and opportunities for foreign firms willing to enter the German market. Furthermore the reader may find a lot of suggestions and contact in order to get in contact with main producers in Germany. 32 pp. Englisch.
