Excerpt: .Norfolk complains of a judgment of the circuit court of Mercer County rendered on the 28th day of August, 1899, against it as plaintiff in favor of H. M. Nash, defendant. The plaintiff sued the. defendant for a balance of seven hundred and ten dollars due on a stock subscription made by the defendant in the year 1890 for ten shares at the par value of one hundred dollars each. Defendant filed four special plclfl to the effect that he had been misled into making such subscription by the fraudulent representations of the p1 0H10t61 $ Of Such company prior to its organization in that they represented in their prospectus that the proposed real estate of the compfl11Y was worth two hundred and fifty thousand dollars and would only cost them one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars, at which latter sum the capital stock was fixed, thus giving all share holders a handsome profit at once; and that he had found out since the institution of this suit that in such sum of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars the promoters who obtained the stock subscriptions and the charter and organized the company, had included a sum of more than thirty thousand dollars for themselves, which they had not revealed or made known to him at any time until it came to his knowledge on the taking of the depositions in behalf of the plaintiff; that also he had learned the contents of the...
